Forward-Looking Statements

This Site, and any documents issued by Kapstone, and available through this Site, may contain statements that are forward-looking within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements include all statements that do not relate solely to historical or current facts, and generally can be identified by the use of the words such as “may,” “believe,” “will,” “expect,” “project,” “estimate,” “anticipate,” “plan,” “could,” “would,” “likely,” “intend,” or “continue.” All forward-looking statements are inherently uncertain as they are based on various expectations and assumptions concerning future events and they are subject to numerous known and unknown risks and uncertainties which could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those projected. These factors include, but are not limited to, general economic conditions, Kapstone’s indebtedness, our ability to attract and retain key employees, the limited availability of credit to our customers, difficulty obtaining timber at favorable prices, strong competition in the paper and packaging industry, changes in foreign exchange rates, as well as other risks and uncertainties detailed from time to time in Kapstone filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Kapstone does not undertake an obligation to update any forward-looking statement.

Applicable Law

The Terms and this Agreement shall be governed in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois without regard to conflict of law provisions generally.

Severability

If any provision of these Site Terms is unlawful, void or unenforceable, then that provision shall be deemed severable and shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions.
